

REVISED ACADEMIC STRUCTURE

Last December, the faculty voted to approve a four college structure, to be implemented in Summer 2022. As directed by the faculty, Provost's Academic Council facilitated a process by which academic programs determined the college in which they would belong. The outcome is as follows (in alphabetical order):

College of Health Professions

Kinesiology
Marriage and Family Therapy
Nursing
Social Work

College of Humanities, Interdisciplinary Studies, and Social Sciences

Anthropology
Chinese Studies
Economics
English
Gender, Sexuality and Race Studies
Global Studies
History
Holocaust & Genocide Studies
Individualized Major
Languages and Literatures
Master of Fine Arts
Native American & Indigenous Studies
Philosophy
Political Science
Publishing & Printing Arts
Religion
Sociology & Criminal Justice
STEM Education Minor

College of Natural Sciences

Biology
Chemistry
Computer Science
Environmental Studies
Geosciences
Mathematics
Physics
Psychology

College of Professional Studies

Art & Design
Business
Communication
Education
Innovation Studies
Music
Theatre & Dance

The following curricular programs will continue to reside under the Office of the Provost:

General Education
First Year Experience
International Honors